THE PROCESS

FROM PRE TO POST-PRODUCTION

THE IDEA OF 'ECHO 8'

'Echo 8' is a feature-length action film produced by the Phoenix Eye team in Western Sydney, with a predominantly Asian cast.

The film was developed after a series of successful short action films, including 'Hit Girls', 'Enter The Dojo', and 'Tiger Cops'.

The director, Maria Tran, started her journey in the creative industries 15 years ago, studying Psychology and making short action films with friends.

Today, she is an experienced filmmaker who has worked with at-risk migrant communities, acted on Australian TV shows, and moved to the US during the pandemic.

Despite the challenges, her drive to complete a no-budget feature-length action film has never wavered.

'Echo 8' is a completed feature-length action thriller movie that is the passion project of the local filmmaking community of Western Sydney.

It is the first of its kind in Australia, being an independent and female-led action movie that was made possible through the support and collaboration of the community, including families, neighbors, and local businesses.

Despite the challenges of completing a 90-minute film during the COVID-19 pandemic, the team successfully completed the film and is now looking to showcase it on cinema screens and at international film festivals in 2023.

THE PROCESS

FROM PRE TO POST-PRODUCTION

LOCATIONS

The film "Echo 8" is an independent female-led action movie shot in various locations in Western Sydney, including Cabramatta, Fairfield, Villawood, Bankstown, and Liverpool.

The team used a red brick house as a focal point and shot in every room, including the living space, sun room, bedroom, and garage. Local businesses such as Quy Lawyers, VIP Karaoke Bar, and Bushido club also provided locations for filming.

The team was able to creatively use the spaces to make it appear as if the locations were connected.

CASTING

The cast includes a mix of actors with varying levels of experience, including veteran actors, local talent, and first-timers.

The film also has an international element with the support of casting director Mike Leeder.

Despite the challenges posed by COVID, the cast and crew have been extremely generous in overcoming hurdles to take part in the film.

THE PROCESS

EFFICIENCY

The film was shot over 14 days, with the script being developed in late 2019 and written in 10 days by Elizabeth H. Vu. Principal photography began in January 2020, but was temporarily halted due to the COVID-19 pandemic, bushfires, and floods, with final scenes being shot in February 2021.

Post-production was completed in December 2022 and the film had its first public screening on December 23rd and 24th, 2022. The gear used was a Blackmagic camera and a Panasonic GH5 camera, with simple lighting and a fast-paced shooting schedule.

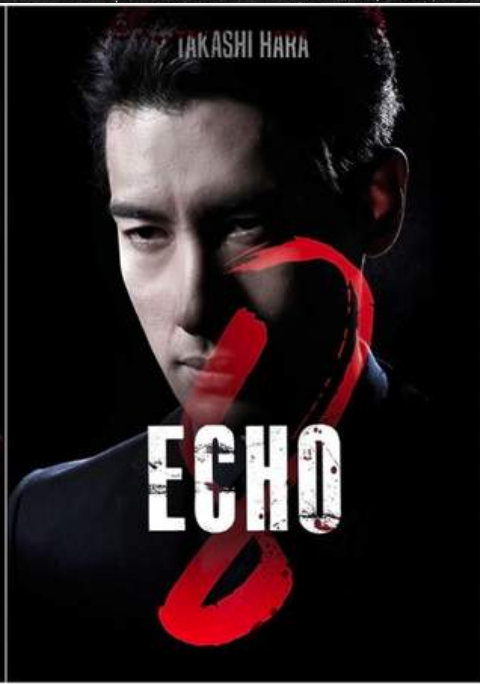

Cast and crew often took on multiple roles and responsibilities, and the project was facilitated through a community and cultural development artistic model, with the cast and crew working collaboratively to create something for social change.

BUDGET

The total budget for the production of Echo 8 was around $10,000 AUD and was self-financed through Phoenix Eye Films.

An additional $11,400 AUD was raised through an Indiegogo campaign to support the marketing strategy for securing screenings and entering the film in festivals around the world. This strategy will begin in early 2023.

Echo 8 aims to 'empower'

BY JESS LAYT

MARIA Tran wants to put Fairfield on the moviemaking map.

The Fairfield local has just wrapped filming on a new independent action movie, shot entirely in the Fairfield LGA.

The busy filmmaker - inspired by Jackie Chan, who she has worked with on the 2017 film Bleeding Steel - is writer, director, actor, choreographer and producer on Echo 8, which is now in post-production.

"Myself and a group of young people based in Fairfield have been fascinated with movement and on-screen culture for a long time, and have made a lot of short films in our spare time, so about a year ago we got around and decided to make something to put Fairfield on the international map," she said.

"It's self-funded, low-budget, with very minimal locations and cast and crew sourced in the area.

"We did the shoot over 15 days - which a lot of people would say is impossible - but COMMUNITY DRIVEN: Action film Echo 8, conceived and directed by Maria Tran, has now finished filming and is in post-production. The crew is currently setting up a website - echo8movie.com - to document Echo 8's progress.

we got it done." Tran said Echo 8 was a psychological thriller, following a woman who wakes up in a recurring nightmare and ends up being hunted.

"There's a refugee migrant story enthralled in this underbelly world," she said.

"We're building from the martial arts action genre."

Tran said she wrote in a specific scene taking place in Cabramatta, so viewers would be able to recognise the location immediately. She said most other locations were indoors, so it was important to include at least one scene that would show off the Fairfield area.

The talented filmmaker said it wasn't easy to juggle all her roles making Echo 8, but she was determined to make it through.

"Getting people on board is tough with a female-led, hard-hitting action," she said. "But as we started shooting the word got around and people starting asking if they could be a part of Echo 8."

"The film has been very driven by the community - it's very unconventional."

Tran said it was so important to her that the community was accurately represented, as she felt many times in the past her community had not been portrayed properly.

"A lot of times stories are taken from the community and misrepresented, and we have to bear the brunt and the repercussions of that," she said.

"So I hope this empowers the community. We want it to have international appeal and I think if it's done right, this will do that, especially for an Australian migrant story."

Tran said she hopes to release Echo 8 into festivals but also find a way to showcase the film within the local community.

About 80 people and local businesses were involved in the shoot. She hopes to have test screenings done in the middle of the year.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

26 August, 2022

It is with great pleasure that I write in support of the Phoenix Eye Film and Media Production's proposal to host the screening of Echo 8 in the Fairfield area.

Echo 8 showcases a great deal of local talent and I believe a local screening would highlight the unique skills that have been nurtured in south west Sydney. I feel it is fitting for a local screening given the movie was shot entirely in the Fairfield LGA and includes easily recognisable suburban scenes.

Creative Producer Maria Tran is a proud local resident and makes every effort to enhance the arts in the south west Sydney region. Ms Tran's contributions to film making as an actress, producer, writer and director are truly commendable and I feel she is truly inspirational to other artists in the local area wishing to be involved in this industry in some aspect.

I have long supported Phoenix Eye's productions and I strongly believe in they have the skill set, passion and drive to successfully deliver creative projects. I feel this is a wonderful opportunity for local residents to support a movie made in their local area and I have no hesitation in supporting the request for a screening of Echo 8 in the area we all so proudly call home.

Yours sincerely

To The Manager,

Re: Letter of Support for Screening of Echo 8 by Phoenix Eye Films in Hoyts Cinemas

I am pleased to support the proposal from Maria Tran of Phoenix Eye Films to have Echo 8 screened in Hoyts cinemas, particularly in our Electorate of Fowler.

Maria has informed me that Echo 8 will be Australia's first female-led action movie and has been very resourceful in filming it entirely in the Fairfield Local Government Area with a strong experienced team.

She has also worked with many International stars including Jackie Chan and has been supported by iconic stars like Dean Cain (Superman) from the bigger stages in the film industry.

I am proud that Maria and her team has chosen to showcase our diverse community of Fowler and South Western Sydney and we hope that this will attract more interests from the International film industry and create more opportunities for the area.

I believe Hoyts' show of support would forge the connection between my community and the commitment and continued work by the team behind Echo 8 would benefit my electorate greatly.

Thankyou for taking the time to consider this proposal, I look forward to hearing from you.

Warm regards,

Dai Le MP
